"THE WICKEDEST GENERAL." KILPATRICK, formerly a cavalry officer in the service of the United States, two months ago, wrote to the State Department, asking leave of absence from his post as Minister to Chili, under plea of his family in New Jersey being so sick as to demand his immediate presence. Leave was granted. But on reaching in Chill, and disgusted even the licentious intriguantes of that notably intriguing place, shamelessly avowed that he returned home for the purpose of canhas seen fit to donounce former promi-

To the Editor of the New York World: I see by the public prints that Gen. Kilpatrick has decorated me with his disapprobation before the people of Pennsylvania. He informs them, substantially, that he tamed me by capturing me and riding me two hundred miles on a port tax of six cents on a pound upon the cotton raised by the labor of the negro upon the bare-back mule. I will do the gentleman the justice to say that he knew that was a lie when he uttered it. I surrandered a lie when he uttered it. I surrandered to see the first positions and relations. Failing to do this, dispater prought not only povery but confusion and discontent. The states a lie when he uttered it. I currendered to Gen. Schofield, at Greensboro, N. C., on the 24 of May, 1885, who told me to go to my home and remain there, saying, if he got any orders to arrest me, he would end there for me.

Accordingly I was a specific or a specific or a national backing system. This was a privi-lege of anormous value. I will not stop now to discuss the wisdom of that system. As Gevernor of this State I vetoed a law authorizing o banks to organize under that system, becau banks to organize under that system, because I saw, as far beer as 1885, that it imperied the future harmony of our prosperous Union. The point to which I wish particularly to call your attention is the unwise and unjust manner in which this great privilege was distributed, wise men would look to see how it could be given out so as to minister to the general prosperity of our caustry. But, regardless of all this areal monopoly was given gardless of all this, great monopoly was given to first commissioners. They were a sinly from the old and sich State, which had been maked to take up the comment bonds.

from the old and lich States, which had been combled to take up the Government bonds. Thus, not only sur debt, but our surrourcy was actionalized. While the State of Marsachusett, with about 1,100,000 inhabitants, has about sett, with about 1,100,000 inhabitants, has about the State of Higners, with about twice that p pulation has less that two million dollars. In the State of Bhode Island they have ab migraty dollars to each innabitant, while Hillington, Michigan, Wisponsto and other Northern States have only about eight dollars. If so much currency is good for Massachusetts, why much curreacy is good for Massachusetts, why is it not a good thing out West? [Cheers.] But the hijustice of this distribution was the insat of the evils which grew out of this lack of forepaign.
